Denver, Colo., Nov. 11.—Armistice Day is a day of peace. On this day seven years ago the great guns fell silent on the western front. Tranquility came to a world weary with four long years of war.

Yet, the men and women who formed America's forces in this greatest conflict of all time knew that their service was not ended with the war.

So there came into existence the American Legion, born to keep alive with the comradeship of war days that spirit of service to country and sacrifice of self which had held America's soldiers to their post of duty through perils and privations.

Much has been done in the years since 1919 to give effect to that purpose of service through care of the war disabled, the orphans and widows, efforts for a better citizenship and a better preparation for it and work to make America greater with the years.

Now the Legion turns to another problem, the supreme problem of this generation, that of organizing peace and justice among the nations.

And so today as we pause to pay tribute to our comrades who died and to those who now lie maimed and pain-racked, that peace might come, the American Legion offers this program for peace, calling for:

Maintenance of adequate forces for internal and external national defense.

Prompt enactment into law the principle of the universal draft, taking the profit out of war and making its hardships and services and sacrifices equal for all.

Immediate adherence by the United States to a permanent court of international justice.

The veterans of the world war fought and suffered and died in the belief that the world war was a war to make good. It is for us, the living, to make good that peace for them.

The American Legion takes up this task and on this, the eighth Armistice Day, offers its program for peace in the hope that thus the veterans who fought for peace may further serve America and mankind.

RE-DEDICATED TO CAUSE OF PEACE

By HERBERT LITTLE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Nov. 11.—The nation today renewed its dedication to the cause of peace in simple ceremonial observance of the signing seven years ago of the Armistice that ended the world war.

President Coolidge led the government in a tribute to the conflict's victims, by placing a floral wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

Elsewhere throughout the country civic patriotic, business and labor organizations conducted appropriate ceremonies or restricted their observance to the moments of silence as a fitting memorial.

At 11 A. M., suggested by the president, Woodrow Wilson's tomb in the national Episcopal cathedral here was the scene of a stirring ritual as a choir sang at intervals while old friends and veterans placed wreaths upon his sarcophagus and bowed in tribute to the memory of the war time president.

TO TRY TO SETTLE
HARD COAL STRIKE

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—(UP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, said yesterday he will meet Governor Pinchot in conference at the Bellevue Stratford hotel today to discuss means of settlement of the anthracite coal strike. The invitation to meet the governor was sent by special messenger to Lewis upon the arrival of Governor Pinchot at noon yesterday.

AGED MAN IS WAYLAIED, ROBBED

Duluth, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Carl G. Bjstrom, 78, Canton, Mich., was waylaid and robbed of $500 here by a train acquaintance. The amiable stranger, a young man, had ridden with Bjstrom from Trout Creek, Mich., where the aged traveler changed trains. Police found him battered and bruised with all but five dollars of his money gone. Bjstrom was en route to Oakland, Cal., where he was to visit his daughter.

PAINLEVE PREPARED TO "FALL ON THE FIELD OF BATTLE"

Paris, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Premier Painleve is prepared to "fall on the field of battle."

He has given out word that he will not flee from the storm, which his financial projects have aroused but will stand his ground before the chamber.

It is expected that the projects will reach the chamber tomorrow or Friday. There, it is agreed, Painleve must use all his skill as a leader to save himself and his cabinet from destruction before the displaced Socialists.

SHENANDOAH MANAGEMENT TO BE ATTACKED

COL. WILLIAM MITCHELL AIMS TO SHOW DIRIGIBLE WAS NOT PROPERLY HANDLED

NAVY DERELICT IN DUTY IN THE
AIR AND AT LAKEHURST
HANGAR

By WILLIAM J. McEVOY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Nov. 11.—Colonel William Mitchell switched his line of attack today and promised to prove his charges of mismanagement of the dirigible Shenandoah by the navy department.

Mitchell went before his jury of generals prepared to show that the huge airship was not properly handled by the navy, either in the air or in the hangar at Lakehurst, N. J.

Captain Rawdon, expert metallurgist, was called to testify on alleged deterioration in the structure of the airship, in an endeavor to substantiate Mitchell's charges that deficiencies in the dirigible were due to lack of care, omission of frequent inspections and in some cases bad judgments.

Washington, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Aroused by the assertion by Colonel William Mitchell that he will prove to his court of generals that the navy sought to obtain false testimony from Mrs. Zachary Lansdowne, widow of the Shenandoah commander, the naval court of inquiry investigating the dirigible disaster today threw open its records and summoned Mrs. Lansdowne to appear before it Monday.

The revival of the inquiry which was closed nearly a month ago, is a direct result of the Mitchell attack it was learned. Mrs. Lansdowne testified to the court once before and was dismissed.

The allegation which the court will now delve into and which it ignored before is that an attempt was made to have Mrs. Lansdowne repudiate her statement, made following the disaster, that her husband was forced to take the Shenandoah on its fatal flight against his will.

A clear cut ruling sustaining Col. Mitchell in his asserted right to an opportunity to prove the truth of his charges against the war and navy departments as a defense, was handed down by the jury of generals at his court martial here today.

On the technical question of summoning 36 out of town witnesses for Mitchell, the court ruled that the flying colonel was within his rights in offering testimony "as an absolute defense."

The ruling came after a question as to the purpose of the introduction of witnesses and testimony by the defense was raised by Colonel Blanton Winship, law member.

"Under the statement made by the defense counsel, that these witnesses will testify in defense of the statement of the accused," said Winship, "it is my opinion that they should be called."

After the court's ruling, Mitchell temporarily abandoned his plan to bring up the Shenandoah disaster and continued his onslaught against the army general staff, calling Major Gerald C. Brandt, general army staff officer to the stand.

A sensation was revealed in his testimony when he declared that a report prepared by Colonel Mitchell on Hawaiian defenses in October, 1924, reached as a general staff member, only last Saturday, with the notation "the recommendations were based on General Mitchell's personal opinion and no consideration should be given."

Brandt said the notation was put on the report by the war plans division of the staff.

IF WE BREAK FAITH

When America entered the World war 10,000,000 American young men enrolled for military service. Except for minor disturbances in isolated sections there was absolutely no resistance to the call to arms. This, too, in spite of the fact that this war was calling men to go to fight on other shores, the first time that American boys had ever enlisted for such service.

And we sent more than 3,000,000 of them across to France. As they went, moreover, they carried with them our pledge that they were going to fight a war to make an end of war.

Seventy-five thousand of them died in arms and went to their death in the firm belief that their sacrifice was justified because it meant that this horrid cataclysm could never again be repeated.

We made this promise to the mothers who kissed their sons goodbye. We made that promise to the wives and little children whose fathers went to the front. We made the promise to our allies who fought beside us.

No more sacred promise was ever made than the promise that was given during the days of the war and Armistice Day should remind us of that vow and be the occasion for taking stock of the progress that has been made in keeping of it.

The pacifism that refuses to support the government in any military measures will not prevent another war any more than the militarism that arms to the teeth.

We have a right to demand that our political leaders shall give hearty and sympathetic support to every movement that brings about good will between the nations and active and determined opposition to any movement that tends to engender ill will.

We have a right to demand that those agencies that mould public opinion shall do all in their power to assist in the demobilizing of the war mind of the world.

We have a right to insist that the security of peace shall be put above the security of profits and that life is more sacred than foreign investments.

The voices of 75,000 of our heroic dead call to us from the ground to make good that promise we gave them that this war should be the last.

If we break faith with those who died, they shall not sleep though poppies blow in Flanders fields.

MINNESOTA BANDIT DREADS HIS HOMECOMING

ROGER ROACH, ALIAS RED STANTON, PREFERS NORTH DAKOTA JAILS

MINNESOTA OFFICIALS WAITING AT PRISON GATE FOR RED
SINCE JULY, 1921

Fargo, N. D., Nov. 11.—(UP)—The inevitable homecoming of Roger Roach, alias Red Stanton, versatile Minnesota bandit, is once more forestalled.

This time Roach's continued residence in North Dakota is assured for three months. He started the sentence today.

Minnesota officials have been waiting since July, 1921, when Roach is alleged to have participated in robbery of the Almelund, Minn., bank for return to his home state. Two of the other four, who robbed the bank of $14,000, are serving life sentences in Stillwater penitentiary.

But Roach, known as Stanton in the Twin Cities, is well pleased with accommodations at North Dakota jails and not anxious about crossing the state line.

Stanton was named as the third man in an indictment returned by the Chicago grand jury soon after the Minnesota robbery. But when arrested in Fargo, Stanton confessed an attempted robbery in Martin, N. D.

"You will never take me back to Minnesota," he told officers who went to return him. North Dakota officials refused to honor the Minnesota requisition. Stanton was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary.

Upon his release Minnesota authorities were again on hand. But the federal government sentenced their prey to another eight months for violation of narcotic laws.

Stanton was released Monday and persistent Minnesota police were at the prison gates. So Stanton immediately confessed stealing $150 worth of postage stamps when he and three others robbed a bank at Martin, N. D.

Judge Andrew Miller sentenced him to three months.

At the expiration of the sentence Minnesota officials will again claim their right to punish him for the Almelund bank robbery.

Minneapolis.—The Bankers National bank and the Metropolitan National bank merged today. Combined resources of the two total more than $12,000,000.

GIRL OF 9 SAVES TWO BOYS FROM DROWNING IN LAKE

Fairmont, Minn., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Leola Klein, 9, today saved two boy playmates from drowning when they broke through the thin ice on Lake Sisseton.

The girl thrust her play fellows a limb, dragged both of them from the water and pulled them to shore over 100 feet of rubbery ice.

The boys were Philip Sutherland, 9, and Alva Sutherland, 8.

ROBBER CACHE FULL OF JEWELRY

WORKMEN FOR RAILROAD DIS-COVER WATCHES AND JEW-ELRY AT ANTIGO

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 11.—Workmen making repairs to the Chicago & Northwestern railroad ice house today came upon watches and rings in sufficient number to indicate a wholesale robbery.

That the robbery took place many years ago is indicated by the matted pulp which was all that remained of the paper in which the jewelry had been wrapped and the badly rusted condition of the steel springs and other parts of the watches, of which there were three. There were about 20 rings.

The only clue to the ownership of the jewelry is the name of G. L. Evans, which appears on one of the watches. Evans is a retired railway conductor, now living at Oshkosh.

MOTION TO QUASH INDICTMENT TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Minneapolis, Nov. 11.—(UP)—A motion to quash the indictment of R. H. Benham for alleged fraud in sale of land in the Argonne farms rehabilitation project was taken under advisement yesterday by Judge T. H. Salmon, Hennepin county district court.

Arguments on the motion were completed today. Counsel for Benham contended the indictment was faulty in that the man alleged to have been defrauded, Clifton O. Beal, never appeared before the grand jury.

Pleads Guilty to Slaying
Hibbing.—John Kolander, Little Swan youth, today started a 7 to 30 year sentence for third degree murder. He pleaded guilty to the slaying of Ray Chumias, Chicago, whose body was found in a woods near here. He had been shot three times.

ARMISTICE DAY WIDELY OBSERVED, VARIOUS RECITALS

SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE
ARMISTICE SIGNING
CEREMONIES

MOST FAVORABLE EXPRESSION
WAS 2 MINUTES SILENT
TRIBUTE AT 11 A. M.

St. Paul, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Every city and village in Minnesota today observed by its own method the nation's youngest holiday. Nowhere in the state was the seventh anniversary of Armistice signing ignored.

Observances varied widely. Unlike other holidays, there is little precedent to bring uniformity. Each community designed its own ritual. Some were elaborate, others simple.

The most universal bow to the men whose sacrifices made the day possible was two minutes of silent tribute at 11 A. M. In many cities business and industry was halted by proclamation of mayors.

Minneapolis is holding the most elaborate celebration since the war. Ten thousand persons are expected to participate in an illuminated parade, which will complete the program tonight. Services were held at St. Mark's church.

St. Paul's largest gathering was to be at a theater party early this afternoon.

Milaca and Willmar are dedicating monuments to their war dead. At Bemidji a firing squad called the city to silence in respect to its dead heroes. Park Rapids and Rochester are holding elaborate all day celebrations, featured by parades.

Fairmont will meet at the city hall for an "old home town" gathering. The American Legion is directing a celebration at Chisholm. Little Falls planned for a brief service. Public exercises were held at Red Wing.

High school football lent itself to the day's program in many cities. Big games were scheduled in the Twin Cities. Austin will meet Albert Lea on its own gridiron. Games in the evening were popular to conclude today's activities.

Everywhere there was a note of solemnity. All the celebrations followed memorial services of some kind. The hilarious demonstration of the original Armistice Day was much subdued by the perspective of seven years removal from the end of the war.

FATHER AND FOUR CHILDREN PERISH IN DWELLING FIRE

East Orange, N. J., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Trapped in their bedroom on the third floor of a six family dwelling, Joseph De Stefano and four of his children perished in the flames early today.

The mother, Mrs. Anna De Stefano, escaped by leaping from a window. She tossed her 14 months old baby, Carmillo, to safety into the arms of a neighbor.

Both Mrs. De Stefano and Carmillo were severely burned, however.

CANCER PROBLEM SAID TO BE NEAR A SOLUTION

SURGEON, GIVES RESULTS
OF RESEARCH

TREATMENT EMPLOYING LEAD
MAY BE AN EFFECTIVE
ONE

By ETHEL HALSEY
(Special United Press Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1925, by United Press)

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 11.—Dr. W. Blair Bell, noted Liverpool surgeon and university professor, has formally announced the results of 17 years' research, which, he says, "places the solution of the cancer problem within grasp, if, indeed, it has not already been accomplished."

Addressing a closed session of the Toronto Academy of Medicine last night, Dr. Bell submitted his report prepared with the assistance of 30 scientists, who, for the last three years, have worked constantly with the Liverpool surgeon. It set forth what Dr. Bell believes to be striking evidence that an explanation of cancer has been found and apparent effectiveness of a treatment employing lead.

Dr. Bell's paper will appear in full in Lancet, official medical journal of England, on November 14. Meantime, the story of the scientists' work and the substance of Dr. Bell's article have been made available to the United Press.

Dr. Bell believes there is no specific cause of cancer, but hundreds of causes.

"It is the cancer itself that is a specific growth process," he said. Lead, in a colloidal preparation, is injected into the blood of the patient. Cells of the cancerous tissue attract the lead, which exerts a destructive force, in many cases not only completely checking further development of the cancer but absorbing the mass.

Discovery that among chemists, plumbers and other workers using lead cancer was a rare disease, was one of considerations that prompted him to use that metal in his treatments, Dr. Bell said. He said it was better than radium or X-ray.

In five years some 200 cases have been treated with "a considerable proportion of success," according to Dr. Bell, who summarizes the results of the investigation as follows:

Cancer is a definite condition of growth taking place in the cells affected. This process is not unlike certain normal processes of growth, but lacks the control that checks normal cell growth at the right point.

In finding a substance to check this unrestrained growing of the cells a cure would be found for cancer.

Lead is such a substance. Bell told his audience last night that he and his investigators had found no "miraculous instantaneous cure."

"It is the treatment, based on a complete knowledge of the hitherto mysterious workings of the disease," Dr. Bell said, "that holds out the most hope for the future."

"Work still remains to be done. One of the greatest flaws in the treatment today lies in the fact that the lead preparation cannot yet be made in so stable a form that it can be administered more than three days after it has been prepared."

DULUTH PLANS NEW CITY HALL TO COST $750,000

Duluth, Nov. 11.—(UP)—All Duluth architects are to be invited to submit plans for a new city hall to cost not more than $750,000 by terms of an ordinance passed late yesterday by the city council.

The American institute of architects is to be asked to supervise the contest and there are to be cash prizes totalling $3,000 for the three best plans. The architect submitting the winning plan will be engaged to supervise building operations.

WILL SHAVE ABOUT $308,000,000 FROM THE ANNUAL TAX

REPRESENTS ABSOLUTE MAXIMUM GOVERNMENT CAN GO IN REDUCTIONS

CHAIRMAN GREEN OF HOUSE
WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE IN STATEMENT

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 11.—The nearly completed tax measure, shaving $308,000,000 or more from the nation's annual payments, represents the absolute maximum to which the government can go in reducing revenues for many years to come, Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee said here today.

These taxes will stand even if they produce a small surplus in two or three years, he said.

"If business moves along on its present expansive lines I believe the taxes we have adopted will net the treasury a surplus of perhaps $30,000,000 by 1928," Green added.

"On the other hand if business has one bad year, this bill might leave the government with a $50,000,000 deficit."

"The bill represents the absolute minimum for safe operation of government under present conditions."

CRIPPLE LEFT AN ESTATE OF $30,000

St. Paul, Nov. 11.—(UP)—The $30,000 estate of Edward T. Mott, amassed despite the handicap of a crippled body, will be divided largely between three Twin Cities hospitals, his will, on file in probate court today revealed.

The state hospital for crippled and deformed children, the Minnesota Masonic home and the Shrine hospital for crippled children received the largest bequests. Persons who cared for Mott, during the years of his struggles were remembered.

Funeral services for the man who refused to be discouraged by his hereditary physical weakness will be held tomorrow.

20 LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGES

Fergus Falls, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Twenty-six liquor law violators pleaded guilty at the opening of the fall term of Federal court here and were sentenced to fines ranging from $200 to $400 and jail terms up to six months.

The case of Elmer W. Westin, former cashier of the First National bank at Ulen, accused of giving false reports, was called. Bail was fixed at $5,000 and trial continued until the spring term of court.

Rapidity with which the docket was cleared the first day indicated a short term.

WELL KNOWN FIREMAN RESIGNS

Red Wing, Minn., Nov. 11.—(UP)—John A. Gross, chief of the Red Wing fire department for the past five years and secretary of the Minnesota Firemen's association for three years, yesterday resigned office to travel for a fire equipment company. The resignation is to take effect December 1. Gross is widely known throughout the state for his activities in the firemen's association.

AMNESIA VICTIM IN TROUBLE IN ST. PAUL

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 11.—(UP)—The second amnesia victim within a week was cared for at a hospital here today. The man is about 25 years old, six feet tall and weighs 185 pounds. He is unable to remember his name or home address.

FOUND DEAD IN TRAIN BERTH

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Napoleon Roussee, 60, Northome, Minn., was found dead in his berth on a train entering Minneapolis today. He was on his way to a hospital for heart treatment.

May Have Tried to Kill Self
Grand Forks, N. D.—Alex Huatshyn, Minneapolis, in serious condition at a hospital here from cuts on his wrists and throat, thought to be self inflicted. He was found on Great Northern train, No. 4, yesterday.

GIRL OF 9 SAVES TWO BOYS FROM DROWNING IN LAKE

Fairmont, Minn., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Leola Klein, 9, today saved two boy playmates from drowning when they broke through the thin ice on Lake Sisseton.

The girl thrust her play fellows a limb, dragged both of them from the water and pulled them to shore over 100 feet of rubbery ice.

The boys were Philip Sutherland, 9, and Alva Sutherland, 8.

ROBBER CACHE FULL OF JEWELRY

WORKMEN FOR RAILROAD DISCOVER WATCHES AND JEWELRY AT ANTIGO

Antigo, Wis., Nov. 11.—Workmen making repairs to the Chicago & Northwestern railroad ice house today came upon watches and rings in sufficient number to indicate a wholesale robbery.

That the robbery took place many years ago is indicated by the matted pulp which was all that remained of the paper in which the jewelry had been wrapped and the badly rusted condition of the steel springs and other parts of the watches, of which there were three. There were about 20 rings.

The only clue to the ownership of the jewelry is the name of G. L. Evans, which appears on one of the watches. Evans is a retired railway conductor, now living at Oshkosh.

MOTION TO QUASH INDICTMENT TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT

Minneapolis, Nov. 11.—(UP)—A motion to quash the indictment of R. H. Benham for alleged fraud in sale of land in the Argonne farms rehabilitation project was taken under advisement yesterday by Judge T. H. Salmon, Hennepin county district court.

Arguments on the motion were completed today. Counsel for Benham contended the indictment was faulty in that the man alleged to have been defrauded, Clifton O. Beal, never appeared before the grand jury.

Pleads Guilty to Slaying
Hibbing—John Kolander, Little Swan youth, today started a 7 to 20 year sentence for third degree murder. He pleaded guilty to the slaying of Ray Chumlas, Chicago, whose body was found in a woods near here. He had been shot three times.

ARMISTICE DAY WIDELY OBSERVED, VARIOUS RECITALS

SEVENTH ANNIVERSARY OF THE
ARMISTICE SIGNING
CEREMONIES

MOST FAVORABLE EXPRESSION
WAS 2 MINUTES SILENT
TRIBUTE AT 11 A. M.

St. Paul, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Every city and village in Minnesota today observed by its own method the nation's youngest holiday. Nowhere in the state was the seventh anniversary of Armistice signing ignored.

Observances varied widely. Unlike other holidays, there is little precedent to bring uniformity. Each community designed its own ritual. Some were elaborate, others simple.

The most universal bow to the men whose sacrifices made the day possible was two minutes of silent tribute at 11 A. M. In many cities business and industry was halted by proclamation of mayors.

Minneapolis is holding the most elaborate celebration since the war. Ten thousand persons are expected to participate in an illuminated parade, which will complete the program tonight. Services were held at St. Mark's church.

St. Paul's largest gathering was to be at a theater party early this afternoon.

Milaca and Willmar are dedicating monuments to their war dead. At Bemidji a firing squad called the city to silence in respect to its dead heroes. Park Rapids and Rochester are holding elaborate all day celebrations, featured by parades.

Fairmont will meet at the city hall for an "old home town" gathering. The American Legion is directing a celebration at Chisholm. Little Falls planned for a brief service. Public exercises were held at Red Wing.

High school football lent itself to the day's program in many cities. Big games were scheduled in the Twin Cities. Austin will meet Albert Lea on its own gridiron. Dances in the evening were popular to conclude today's activities.

Everywhere there was a note of solemnity. All the celebrations followed memorial services of some kind. The hilarious demonstration of the original Armistice Day was much subdued by the perspective of seven years removal from the end of the war.

FATHER AND FOUR CHILDREN PERISH IN DWELLING FIRE

East Orange, N. J., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Trapped in their bedroom on the third floor of a six family dwelling, Joseph De Stefano and four of his children perished in the flames early today.

The mother, Mrs. Anna De Stefano, escaped by leaping from a window. She tossed her 14 months old baby, Carmillo, to safety into the arms of a neighbor.

Both Mrs. De Stefano and Carmillo were severely burned, however.

CANCER PROBLEM SAID TO BE NEAR A SOLUTION

DR. W. BLAIR BELL, ENGLISH
SURGEON, GIVES RESULTS
OF RESEARCH

TREATMENT EMPLOYING LEAD
MAY BE AN EFFECTIVE
ONE

By ETHEL HALSEY
(Special United Press Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1925, by United Press)
Toronto, Ont., Nov. 11.—Dr. W. Blair Bell, noted Liverpool surgeon and university professor, has formally announced the results of 17 years' research, which, he says, "places the solution of the cancer problem within grasp, if, indeed, it has not already been accomplished."

Addressing a closed session of the Toronto Academy of Medicine last night, Dr. Bell submitted his report prepared with the assistance of 30 scientists, who, for the last three years, have worked constantly with the Liverpool surgeon.

It set forth what Dr. Bell believes to be striking evidence that an explanation of cancer has been found and apparent effectiveness of a treatment employing lead.

Dr. Bell's paper will appear in full in Lancet, official medical journal of England, on November 14. Meantime, the story of the scientists' work and the substance of Dr. Bell's article have been made available to the United Press.

Dr. Bell believes there is no specific cause of cancer, but hundreds of causes.

"It is the cancer itself that is a specific growth process," he said.

Lead, in a colloidal preparation, is injected into the blood of the patient. Cells of the cancerous tissue attract the lead, which exerts a destructive force, in many cases not only completely checking further development of the cancer but absorbing the mass.

Discovery that among chemists, plumbers and other workers using lead cancer was a rare disease, was one of considerations that prompted him to use that metal in his treatments, Dr. Bell said. He said it was better than radium or X-ray.

In five years some 200 cases have been treated with "a considerable proportion of success," according to Dr. Bell, who summarizes the results of the investigation as follows:

Cancer is a definite condition of growth taking place in the cells affected.

This process is not unlike certain normal processes of growth, but lacks the control that checks normal cell growth at the right point.

In finding a substance to check this unrestrained growing of the cells a cure would be found for cancer.

Lead is such a substance.

Bell told his audience last night that he and his investigators had found no "miraculous instantaneous cure."

"It is the treatment, based on a complete knowledge of the hitherto mysterious workings of the disease," Dr. Bell said, "that holds out the most hope for the future."

"Work still remains to be done. One of the greatest flaws in the treatment today lies in the fact that the lead preparation cannot yet be made in so stable a form that it can be administered more than three days after it has been prepared."

DULUTH PLANS NEW CITY HALL TO COST $750,000

Duluth, Nov. 11.—(UP)—All Duluth architects are to be invited to submit plans for a new city hall to cost not more than $750,000 by terms of an ordinance passed late yesterday by the city council.

The American institute of architects is to be asked to supervise the contest and there are to be cash prizes totalling $3,000 for the three best plans. The architect submitting the winning plan will be engaged to supervise building operations.

WILL SHAVE ABOUT $308,000,000 FROM THE ANNUAL TAX

REPRESENTS ABSOLUTE MAXIMUM GOVERNMENT CAN GO IN REDUCTIONS

CHAIRMAN GREEN OF HOUSE
WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE IN STATEMENT

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Nov. 11.—The nearly completed tax measure, shaving $308,000,000 or more from the nation's annual payments, represents the absolute maximum to which the government can go in reducing revenues for many years to come, Chairman Green of the house ways and means committee said here today.

These taxes will stand even if they produce a small surplus in two or three years, he said.

"If business moves along on its present expansive lines I believe the taxes we have adopted will net the treasury a surplus of perhaps $30,000,000 by 1928," Green added.

"On the other hand if business has one bad year, this bill might leave the government with a $50,000,000 deficit."

"The bill represents the absolute minimum for safe operation of government under present conditions."

CRIPPLE LEFT AN ESTATE OF $30,000

St. Paul, Nov. 11.—(UP)—The $30,000 estate of Edward T. Mott, amassed despite the handicap of a crippled body, will be divided largely between three Twin Cities hospitals, his will, on file in probate court today revealed.

The state hospital for crippled and deformed children, the Minnesota Masonic home and the Shrine hospital for crippled children received the largest bequests. Persons who cared for Mott, during the years of his struggles were remembered.

Funeral services for the man who refused to be discouraged by his heritage of physical weakness will be held tomorrow.

20 LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGES

Fergus Falls, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Twenty-six liquor law violators pleaded guilty at the opening of the fall term of Federal court here and were sentenced to fines ranging from $200 to $400 and jail terms up to six months.

The case of Elmer W. Westin, former cashier of the First National bank at Ulen, accused of giving false reports, was called. Bail was fixed at $5,000 and trial continued until the spring term of court.

Rapidity with which the docket was cleared the first day indicated a short term.

FORGET-ME-NOT DAY YIELDED $100

Sale of Flowers Conducted For Disabled Veterans of World War

MRS CLYDE PARKER CHAIRMAN

Money Has Been Remitted To The State Department of Disabled Veterans

Mrs. Clyde E. Parker, chairman in charge of the Forget-me-not Day drive, held on last Saturday in Brainerd, announces that $100 was received from the sale of these little blue flowers.

The sale was conducted under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary to the American Legion, assisted by the Girl Scouts, and it is felt that the proceeds were exceptionally good, considering the fact that the day was cold and inclined to be stormy, so that there were not as many on the downtown streets as should be expected under normal conditions.

The money has been sent to the used in its entirety for aiding disabled veterans of the World War, there being over 4,000 such men in Minnesota, all of whom need this assistance badly.

The forget-me-nots which were purchased on Saturday are being worn today, Armistice Day, in honor of the disabled veterans, at the request of those in charge of the sale.

Mrs. Parker is very grateful to the members of the Legion Auxiliary and the Girl Scouts, who assisted in this sale, and without whose help the event could not have been so complete a success. Those participating in the sale entered into the spirit of the occasion with hearty enthusiasm, making the work much lighter for all concerned.

EDUCATION WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

Begins Monday, Nov. 16 And Ends on Sunday, November 22

LOCAL SCHOOLS CO-OPERATE
Effort Made to Instill a Greater Desire For Universal Education

American Education Week will be observed throughout the United States beginning Monday, November 16th, and ending Sunday, November 22nd, and the Brainerd schools will co-operate in the plan of the week, which is to bring the important subject of education before the public, and to instill a greater desire for universal education in the program of real democratic living.

Each day during American Education Week is set aside for a certain phase of the week's plan, with suggestions for presenting programs that will bring out the theme for the day.

Monday, November 16th, is "Constitution Day," the thought being that the constitution is the bulwark of democracy and opportunity. The slogans for the day are "Ballots, not bullets," "Know The Constitution."

Tuesday is "Patriotism Day," with the thought, the flag of the United States of America is the symbol of the ideals and institutions of our Republic. The slogans for the day, "America First," "Vote at all elections."

Wednesday is "School and Teacher Day," the thought being that it is not too much to say that the need of civilization is the need of teachers, which has been expressed by President Coolidge. The slogans—"The Better the Teacher, the Better the School," "Visit Your Schools Today."

Thursday is "Conservation and Thrift Day." The thought is taken from John Muir, who has said, "The forests of America, however slighted by man, must have been a great delight to God." The slogans are, "Plant a tree," "Work and Save."

Friday is "Know Your School Day," expressing the thought that progressive civilization depends upon progressive education. The slogans are—"Good Schools for all Communities," "Make your Schools Livable."

Saturday is "Community and Health Day," expressing the thought that physical education means health and strength. The slogans are, "A square deal for the country boy and girl," "A sound mind in a sound body," "Visit your neighbor today."

Sunday, "For God and Country Day," expressing the thought that religion, morality, and education are necessary for good government. "A Godly nation cannot fail" and "Visit your Church today" are the slogans.

President Coolidge, in his proclamation for American Education Week, urges that "The utmost endeavor must be exerted to provide for every child in the land the full measure of education which his need and his capacity demand; and none must be permitted to live in ignorance." The president recommends that "the governors of the states issue proclamations, that local officers, civic, social, and religious organizations and citizens of every occupation, contribute with all their strength to the advance of education, and that they make of this week a special season of mutual encouragement in promoting that enlightenment upon which the welfare of the nation depends."

WOMEN VOTERS "THE LAST WORD"

First Real Practice of the League in Presenting Play Held at Home of Mrs. Rose Parker

COMEDY IS GOOD ONE

Reveals Contrast in Love-Making,
Civil War And Last of 19th Century

The first real practice for the League of Women Voters' play—"The Last Word" was held Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Rose Parker. If the audience gets as many laughs out of the play as the cast did, it will be worth double the price of admission.

The comedy comes through the contrast between the fashions in love-making of the period just before the civil war and the last of the 19th century, and between that period and the present day.

It also brings out the fact of how the male of each generation abhors the "advanced" female of his day and generation but it shows the steady advance of "feminism" in spite of said abhorrence. Underneath the comedy is history and a bit of philosophy.

The splendid cast is as follows:
William—Wallace Anderson,
Henrietta—Dorothy Carmichael,
Amelia (the "advanced" female)—Mayne Seaton.

Will—K. H. Hoorn.
Etta—Miss Mary Tornstrom.
Mrs. Van Rensselaer Smith (President of the Women's club)—Dorothy Harris.

Etta's mischievous brother—Helen Marie Stadhauser.
Hank—Lucile O'Conner.
Bill—Wendell Burns.
Miss Jeffrey—Lucile Nolan.
Mr. Abrahamson—C. A. Stadelbauer.
Dramatic critic—Mrs. C. L. Burnett.

This play will be given, with music and other attractions that will be announced later, on Monday night November 23rd, in the high school gymnasium.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

STATE, federal and county officials must work in close co-operation for the successful enforcement of dry laws in the North-west, says General W. F. Rhinow, new prohibition administrator for the district. One can easily see why General Rhinow calls for this co-operation.

There are only 36 men in the federal prohibition force to police the whole state of Minnesota. This force is not enough to enforce the dry law. The same condition, however, exists in other states.

To overcome the limitations of a small force, Rhinow is enlisting support of other government officials in strict enforcement of the prohibition law. Local authorities particularly have been appealed to for co-operation.

This week General Rhinow investigated an alleged leaky corner in upper Minnesota. He also inspected the Canadian border and interviewed customs officials and gained promises of support in his dry campaign.

He is of the opinion the customs officials and the federal agents can work together with particular advantage. When an emergency arises on the border, he said members of his force will be sent to help customs officers. At the same time border officials will be on the alert for liquor smugglers. The new administrator is convinced more complete co-operation between various law enforcement branches will go far in solving the knotty problem of prohibition enforcement in border states.

With the drying up of supplies coming across the border, Volstead now senses greater activity at law breaking within our own state line. He believes that much body rub alcohol is being redistilled and he seeks the cancellation of some thousand body rub alcohol permits. The body rub alcohol is for external application, while redistillation seeks to illegally make it bootleg liquor.

NEW COUNTY PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION

CROW WING county has organized its rangers, who are to be an auxiliary to aid the sheriff in running down bank bandits. With that act accomplished, our county seemed in a fair way to be set to handle whatever criminal situation or wave might encompass us.

But Anoka county has another set of small thieves against which it seeks protection. The Anoka Herald states that the Anoka County Protective association was organized with every township in the county represented. So numerous have become the cases of theft in the county that measures of this sort of necessary. Chicken thieves, pilferers in houses and barns, auto thieves, etc., must be shown that their activities hereafter will lead them directly to jail without option of fines or probation.

It is generally known that some of the recent depredations have been done by local talent, although some is attributed to thieves from the cities who venture out at night after anything in the way of profitable profit that can be sold.

The Anoka County Protective association offers $300 for the evidence leading to the conviction of a thief or thieves stealing from a member of the association, if convicted on a charge of grand larceny, and $100 if convicted on a charge of petit larceny, or for the conviction of any person knowingly receiving property stolen from a member of this association.

TRUE-STORY TECHNIQUE

THE true story form of literary work is much in vogue these days and Laurence Stallings, in a copyrighted article, gives some pointers on its technique. Its technique is far less exciting than that of the short story. It is essentially that of the man or woman who has gone "blotto" drunk, whatever that is, and has told the family secrets.

The true story won instant favor with many writers. It was easier written, it offered no childish rigmarole or form or plot, it was easily sensational. All a man needed to do in order to break into print was to kick his wife in the face and walk out, thus setting the stage for "Why Marriage is Not Enough." And the woman writer need do nothing more specialized than have a baby. A dozen editors sit outside the delivery room, ready to bid for "One Glimpse of Baby."

A MAN was fined $5 for kissing his wife in an automobile in Milwaukee. He should have been praised and given honorable mention instead of being fined. The trouble all happened because the husband kissed his wife in the car when it was parked, and the judge sustained the policeman in calling the incident disorderly conduct. We always thought it an inalienable right to kiss one's wife whenever or wherever one pleased.

UNDER the new postal rates, says the Milaco Tribune, it is cheaper to subscribe for a paper than to mail it each week to someone living away from home. After the home paper has been read it has been customary in many homes to send it away to a son or daughter but now it is cheaper to have it sent from the office every week as several have found it.

If you haven't the makeup to stand criticism, you haven't the head to stand prosperity and fame. Believe this and, perhaps, you can understand why people fall by the wayside, says the Cokato Enterprise.

"RIGHT TO TAKE HUMAN LIFE FOR MERCY'S SAKE"

POINT ON WHICH WHOLE CASE OF DR. BLAZER IS HINGED

FINAL ARGUMENTS MADE BY COUNSEL, CASE SOON TO JURY

By STANLEY WHITAKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Littleton, Colo., Nov. 11. — The right to take human life for "mercy's sake," even though that life is enclosed in a misshapen body, powerless to control muscles and with an imbecile mind, will be argued by attorneys here this afternoon and then be placed in the hands of 12 jurymen to decide.

With closing arguments scheduled for today, the trial of Dr. Harold E. Blazer, aged country doctor, who killed his imbecile daughter, Hazel, to end her sufferings and then attempted suicide, drew rapidly to a close.

For almost a week attorneys have argued over the sanity of the aged physician who admitted on the witness stand he could not remember poisoning his daughter last February. Alienists have disagreed as to the mental state of Blazer when the crime was committed. Some have said it was possible for him to kill his best loved daughter in a fit of temporary insanity, in one of his "apels," as Blazer puts it.

"The prosecution has shown conclusively that Blazer committed the crime," Sam Nikkel, deputy district attorney, said today. "He does not deny his guilt."

Louis De R. Mowry, chief counsel for the defense, is confident the jury will not convict his client.

"There is no question but that the jury has been affected and their sympathies are almost unanimous with the old physician who devoted his life to the care of an imbecile daughter, even neglecting another normal child who testified in his defense," said Mowry.

At last night's session, one witness, Dr. George A. Moleen, an alienist, said he examined Blazer last March 19 and believed Blazer simulated loss of memory.

"You mean it was faked?"

"Yes," Moleen answered.

On examination by the defense the physician admitted that Blazer might have suffered loss of memory through shock of a corrosive poison.

Immediately following Dr. Moleen's testimony, the state rested its case.

the army at the capital was unleashed at the Mitchell court martial here today by Major Gerald C. Brandt, general staff officer and a defense witness, in one of the most colorful sessions to date.

The day was marked as well by the collapse of Mrs. Robert Howse, wife of the president of the court martial in the hearing room and a dramatic two minute pause of the court, with members standing facing the east, in memory of Armistice Day. Brandt proved an excellent witness for Mitchell, in the opinion of defense counsel, bringing to the trial the viewpoint of a dissident member of the high command itself.

Among his statements were that: 1. The general staff pigeon-holed a report made by Colonel Mitchell on Hawaiian defense in 1924 until last Saturday when it dug it up and forwarded it to Brandt with the notation that "no consideration should be given it, because of its authorship."

2. The naval maneuvers off Hawaii this summer disclosed that the island defenses were "50 per cent deficient;" that the Pearl Harbor base could have been captured by an enemy, and that the army and navy forces there were unable to function together.

"The economy program" of the administration is directly responsible for "deplorable conditions" in the air service. In making this statement Brandt said he knew "who was responsible for this program."

3. That the best pilots in the air have left the army.

4. The officers quarters at barracks in Washington are incomparably better than anywhere else in the army, even having a golf course.

Brandt is a veteran flyer but has charge of housing matters on the general staff.

"LITTLE ITALY" IN CHICAGO LOSES WOULD BE LEADER

SAMUEL AMATUNA, SWASHBUCKLING SICILIAN, WAS SHOT DOWN

WAR WAGED FOR DICTATORSHIP OF CHICAGO'S ITALIAN COLONY

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Samuel Amatuna, swashbuckling son of Sicily, was near death today as a result of the war that is being waged for dictatorship of Chicago's "Little Italy" in control of the illicit alcohol traffic.

Amatuna was shot down by his enemies last night as he was preparing to attend the Chicago opera. The assailants escaped and their victim was taken by his friends to a hospital, where it was said he might die.

Since the death of Michael Merlo, recognized king of the Italian quarter, feuds have been raging between rival factions, each backing its leaders as a candidate for Merlo's throne. Amatuna was one of the popular choices. Next month he was to have married a sister of Merlo's widow and factional leaders saw in the wedding a chance for Amatuna to gain the support of the Merlo crowd.

Although he had boasted that he never carried a gun, Amatuna was feared because of the bootlegging ring he led. Since he was shot police have learned that he was connected with the theft of $16,000 worth of alcohol here in October.

In his bootlegging and hijacking leadership, Amatuna's enemies saw an attempt to succeed the famous Genna brothers as lords of the alcohol traffic.

The Gennas, five in number, were shorn of their power when three of them were killed, one by a policeman and two by rivals and the other two fled the city. Amatuna, it is believed, attempted to take their places of power.

Amatuna was known in the Italian quarter as a Beau Brummel, a boaster and a devotee of the opera and the arts. News that he had been shot spread rapidly among his friends but all of them refused to divulge any of their information to authorities.

NO DISTRICT COURT IS HELD TODAY

Adjournment Taken Tuesday Evening, Armistice Day Observed Today

LAST JURY DELIBERATING

Jury in Last Ansel Isaacson Case Took Up Same on Tuesday Afternoon

District court was adjourned on Tuesday evening until Thursday morning, to observe Armistice Day, a legal holiday.

The case of Ansel Isaacson, on trial on a statutory charge, went to the jury at 5:40 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and as the Dispatch goes to press the jury is still deliberating.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Emma Peterson and her daughter Miss Alice Peterson, both of Aitkin, were arraigned on charges of larceny in the second degree. Each pleaded guilty. Mrs. Peterson was sentenced to Stillwater and her daughter to Shakopee, sentence in each case being suspended upon good behavior.

The defendants admitted that they had been taking merchandise from Aitkin business houses, principally groceries, meats and tobacco, since last April. In some cases they concealed the articles about their person and at other times in a baby buggy which they took with them for the purpose. They stated that they would go to a store at mealtime, when only one clerk was on duty, and there was less opportunity for being caught.

In giving the account of the court proceedings in Tuesday's Dispatch, by error it was stated that the jury in the case of Conrad Olson against the Service Motor Co., found for the defendant. The jury found for the plaintiff, and assessed his damages in the sum of $526.34.

The case scheduled for trial Thursday morning is that of the state against William Carson and John I. Courtney on a charge of assault. This is an appeal from the decision of the municipal court of Brainerd.

STATE ATTACKS ALIBI OFFERED BY EARL KLENCK

LATTER IS ON TRIAL WITH D. C. STEPHENSON, FORMER KLAN DRAGON

TRIO CHARGED WITH MURDERING MISS MADGE OBERHOLTZER

Noblesville, Ind., Nov. 11.—(UP)—The state today attacked the alibi of Earl Klenck, on trial here with D. C. Stephenson, former Klan dragon, and Earl Gentry, on charges of murdering Miss Madge Oberholtzer. Three prisoners, who were taken from Indianapolis to the state penal farm at Putnamville on the morning of March 17, were called by the state on rebuttal to shatter the alibi. Klenck, a deputy sheriff of Marion county at that time, was not their guard on the trip to the farm, the prisoners testified.

Four deputy sheriffs of Marion county had testified for the defense that Klenck on the morning of March 17 went to the farm with a group of prisoners. The dying statement of Miss Oberholtzer said Klenck was the man who carried her home from Stephenson's home early on March 17. The statement charged she was kept a prisoner in Stephenson's garage for nearly 24 hours and denied medical attention for bichloride of mercury poisoning.

Harry Mescall, Louis Brunner and Pete Majors, colored, the three prisoners taken to the farm on the morning in question, all told the same story.

They said Klenck was not with them.

Prosecutor Remy today bolstered up his rebuttal by summoning additional witnesses to testify.

The prosecution was elated over the testimony of Stanley Hill, who said he had been "keeping company" with Miss Oberholtzer for more than a year and as far as he knew her friendship with Stephenson was of short duration. The defense had maintained that Stephenson and Miss Oberholtzer were "old friends." Hill said he had introduced Miss Oberholtzer to Stephenson at the inaugural ball for Governor Ed Jackson last January.

"I was positive at the time that they had never met before," Hill testified.

Witnesses for the defense had previously testified that they had seen Stephenson and Miss Oberholtzer together several times before the governor's ball.

In a short time she was well, happy and strong, and although over 80 years of age she is now vigorous enough to look after her household duties and go out quite a little, too. MATCHMAKING THESE DAYS A HARD JOB

TEX RICKARD BALKED SIGNING MICKEY WALKER

WANTED WORLD'S WELTER-
WEIGHT CHAMPION TO MEET
TOMMY MILLIGAN

RICKARD GETTING DISGUSTED
WITH TERMS ASKED BY
MANY BOXERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Nov. 11.—Balked in his efforts to make a number of other matches, Tex Rickard wants to sign Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion in Madison Square Garden in the Christmas fund benefit to meet Tommy Milligan, European welterweight and middleweight champion.

Milligan has already signed an agreement to appear in three fights for Rickard and Walker gave his terms some time ago when Rickard was dickering for a match between the welterweight champion and Dave Shade, the California challenger.

It is understood, however, that Shade has decided to forsake the welterweight class and fight as a middleweight in the future as he fears that he will injure himself by reducing to the weight. It is said Walker wants $100,000 to defend his title in a decision, but Rickard cannot pay him that much as there would be nothing left for the Christmas stocking. The New York boxing commission also passed a rule some time ago that at least 50 per cent of the receipts must be given to the charity for which benefits are given.

It was hoped that a heavyweight contest could be arranged as the star bout, but Rickard has abandoned those plans. He offered George Godfrey, the big Philadelphia Negro, to Harry Wills and Gene Tunney, but they would have none of him.

Wills said he could not get away from a contract not to engage in any important match until next September when he is to meet Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship. Tunney said Godfrey was too dark and that Wills was the only Negro he would condescend to meet. "I am getting disgusted with the game," Rickard said today. "The demands being made by managers are impossible. If it keeps on I may can boxing out of the new garden as a regular feature and stage only a couple of matches a season."

Crosby-Ironton Eleven Encounters Little Falls

Crosby, Minn., Nov. 11.—The football team of the Crosby-Ironton high school will play the Little Falls team on Armistice day at Little Falls and will attempt to make it two straight over the Morrison county team. The locals defeated Little Falls in the first game by a close score and Coach Wock is drilling his players with a view of taking this last game and keeping the slate clean for 1925. Crosby-Ironton has defeated Brainerd twice, Aitkin, Park Rapids and Little Falls, and but two touchdowns have been made against her by opponents.

ANTICIPATE RECORD BREAKING AUTO RACES

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Peter De Paola and Earl Cooper, champion auto drivers, are entered in the 250 mile Armistice day race in the Charlotte speedway this afternoon. Fourteen other drivers are entered. The qualifying laps, which averaged around 135 miles an hour, indicated a series of record breaking performances.

Tommy Milton Leads
Speedway, Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Earl Cooper was leading a field of 17 drivers at the first 50 miles in the 150 mile Armistice day automobile race here this afternoon. Cooper was driving a Junior Eight.

Tommy Milton, in a Duesenberg, was a close second.

Leon Duray bumped into a fence on the 27th lap, but was not hurt. His right front wheel was jammed but this was quickly repaired and he went back into the grind.

A crowd estimated at 50,000 jammed the huge pine bowl structure.

Bob McDonough crashed into a fence on the 74th lap and his Miller Special turned over and was smashed. McDonough was not badly hurt.

Tommy Milton took the lead at the 150 mile mark when Cooper was forced to the pit for a tire change.

Harry Hartz in a Miller Special went into second place.

Peter De Paola, in a Duesenberg, was forced out of the running with a broken rod.

DARTMOUTH LEAVES TO PLAY CHICAGO

Hanover, N. H., Nov. 11.—(UP)—With a bruised and battered squad of 35 players, the Dartmouth football contingent left today for Chicago to play the University of Chicago on Saturday.

Tully, Hardy and Holleran are in bad shape as a result of injuries suffered in the Cornell game that were not considered serious at the time. Tully, the star end, of the varsity had a bad leg and has been able to do nothing this week but engage in signal drill.

The squad was given a rousing send off when it boarded the train and the coaches said they were confident.

CANADIANS SHIP POTATOES INTO U. S.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—(UP)—Attracted by high prices Canadian potato growers are shipping large quantities of potatoes into the United States, Chicago commission men said today. Nearly 500 cars of Canadian potatoes have arrived in this country so far this season compared with approximately 20 cars received during the same period last year, it was estimated.

Metal Polish

Metal polish keeps the brasses clean if they are well rubbed. If the house is to be closed for a time after the cleaning, smear the brasses lightly with a little lard and it will keep them from tarnishing. Copper pieces that are a bit black and dirty may be cleaned first with a paste made of three tablespoonfuls of flour, one teaspoonful of salt and enough vinegar to make a paste; rub the pieces well, then rinse in hot water; then, if they need it, use a copper polish to finish. This is a quick and ever-ready way.

PLAYERS CODDLED NOW, OLD TIMERS SAY

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 11.—Several interesting stories of inside happenings during the late world's series are coming to the surface. One concerns the verbal feud between Goose Goslin, the hard hitting Washington outfielder and "OH" Smith, the high-speed talking catcher of the Pirates.

Smith gave Goslin such a flow of language when he was at the bat that the Washington outfielder completely lost his goat. The Pittsburgh catcher is said to have greeted Goslin, when he stepped to the bat, with a remark—"I never knew why they called you Goose until I saw that beak. They tell me that you're just a big bush leaguer and can't hit a hook."

Goslin complained to the umpire and also told Bucky Harris, when he went to the bench, that he couldn't hit when Smith was talking that way. Later, when Smith continued his flow of conversation, a representative of the Senators, it is said, went to Commissioner Landis with a complaint. The commissioner said the umpire reported that Smith had not used any profane or insulting language to any of the Washington players and that there was no rule to restrict free speech on the field.

The authenticity of this story cannot be vouched for, but it came from several reliable sources and it aroused several old-time players.

"Just think of anything like that happening on a ball field," Johnny Evers, one of baseball's greatest players in his day, remarked. Evers was one of the most fiery and aggressive players of all time and he fairly boiled when he was relating the story.

"When I was playing, a player who made a complaint like that, even if the language was much more abusive, would have been considered a molly," he said. "We had a way and a place for stopping talkers like that. If you couldn't lick 'em under the grandstand, you'd have to stand up there and take it."

"Ball players these days are coddled too much. They get to thinking so much of themselves that they can't be handled. Two ball players—Ruth and Goslin—were suspended last season because they would not obey orders and any manager, with a few exceptions, who tries to enforce old-fashioned rules of discipline, is in danger of losing his job."

"The players get so much money that they are being spoiled. They figure their value at the gate and they are always quite certain that they will not lose their job if they are of any value to the club."

"I've had plenty of experience. In my playing days I was familiar with more exits in more ball parks than any other player. Maybe that was an accomplishment unworthy of a boast but still I'm glad I'd played ball in those kind of times."

Seek Fossils in Lime

Large lime deposits in northern Transvaal have been found to be fossil bearing, and scientists are preparing to make an extensive search. Moreover, in the Transvaal, ancient mine workings have been located. The latter are believed to have been worked by pygmies who used copper chisels. A further interesting discovery has been made, likewise in the Transvaal, of an ancient road, 200 miles in length, running through the Woodbush country.

Seals' Peculiar Voyage

Cached in a half-hollow cedar log which was towed with a raft of logs from Everett, Wash., to Tacoma, was found an old mother seal with a thriving litter of young seals, to which she had evidently given birth after crawling into the log. The happy family, discovered as one of the members stuck its head out of the end of the log, disappeared into the water of the sound before they could be captured.

Red Cross First Aid Popular in America As Accidents Gain

The rapidly mounting toll from traffic accidents has brought home to the public the necessity of being prepared to render prompt assistance while awaiting the doctor. During the past year 356 chapters of the American Red Cross were instructing classes in First Aid, and in the same period certificates were issued to 26,601 persons qualified by Red Cross experts.

Many cities throughout the United States are showing interest in securing first aid instruction for their police and fire department personnel, and through the work of local chapters, practical results have been obtained in such cities as Washington, D. C.; Toledo, O.; Boston, Mass.; South Bend and Indianapolis, Ind.; Port Arthur, Texas, and other communities. In co-operation with the State authorities, intensive training in first aid and rescue methods has been given to State police and constabulary members at four State training schools.

Instruction in these subjects in public and private schools, colleges and universities has increased during the year. Attention has been given to training teachers at institutes and summer schools.

The Red Cross first aid railroad car has been in continuous operation throughout the year. It covered 10,340 miles, visiting 137 cities, where 1,200 meetings were conducted by the surgeons, with a total of 146,527 people.

Industries particularly have availed themselves of the instruction afforded by the Red Cross. The Western Electric Company, for example, reports a reduction of the accident rate per 1,000 employees.

Saw Glory Slip Away

Ted Lyons, White Sox pitcher, saw a no-hit game slip out of his grasp after two men had been retired in the ninth inning of the second game of a double-header in Washington. After he had retired 26 men without a bingle being made off him, Bob Veach cracked out a single to spoil the beautiful performance. Lyons struck out five. An unusual feature about the pitching stunt was that Lyons hurled against 18 Washington players, Manager Harris sending in a number of youngsters when it was a foregone conclusion the game was lost.

MATCHMAKING THESE DAYS A HARD JOB

TEX RICKARD BALKED SIGNING MICKEY WALKER

WANTED WORLD'S WELTER-
WEIGHT CHAMPION TO MEET
TOMMY MILLIGAN

RICKARD GETTING DISGUSTED
WITH TERMS ASKED BY
MANY BOXERS

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, Nov. 11.—Balked in his efforts to make a number of other matches, Tex Rickard wants to sign Mickey Walker, world's welterweight champion in Madison Square Garden in the Christmas fund benefit to meet Tommy Milligan, European welterweight and middleweight champion.

Milligan has already signed an agreement to appear in three fights for Rickard and Walker gave his terms some time ago when Rickard was dickering for a match between the welterweight champion and Dave Shade, the California challenger.

It is understood, however, that Shade has decided to forsake the welterweight class and fight as a middleweight in the future as he fears that he will injure himself by reducing to the weight. It is said Walker wants $100,000 to defend his title in a decision, but Rickard cannot pay him that much as there would be nothing left for the Christmas stocking. The New York boxing commission also passed a rule some time ago that at least 50 percent of the receipts must be given to the charity for which benefits are given.

It was hoped that a heavyweight contest could be arranged as the star bout, but Rickard has abandoned those plans. He offered George Godfrey, the big Philadelphia Negro, to Harry Wills and Gene Tunney, but they would have none of him.

Wills said he could not get away from a contract not to engage in any important match until next September when he is to meet Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship. Tunney said Godfrey was too dark and that Wills was the only Negro he would condescend to meet.

"I am getting disgusted with the game," Rickard said today. "The demands being made by managers are impossible. If it keeps on I may be boxing out of the new garden as a regular feature and stage only a couple of matches a season."

Crosby-Ironton Eleven Encounters Little Falls

Crosby, Minn., Nov. 11.—The football team of the Crosby-Ironton high school will play the Little Falls team on Armistice day at Little Falls and will attempt to make it two straight over the Morrison county team. The locals defeated Little Falls in the first game by a close score and Coach Wood is drilling his players with a view of taking this last game and keeping the slate clean for 1925. Crosby-Ironton has defeated Brainerd twice, Aitkin, Park Rapids and Little Falls, and but two touchdowns have been made against her by opponents.

ANTICIPATE RECORD BREAKING AUTO RACES

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Peter De Paola and Earl Cooper, champion auto drivers, are entered in the 250 mile Armistice day race in the Charlotte speedway this afternoon. Fourteen other drivers are entered.

The qualifying laps, which averaged around 135 miles an hour, indicated a series of record breaking performances.

Tommy Milton Leads
Speedway, Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Earl Cooper was leading a field of 17 drivers at the first 50 miles in the 150 mile Armistice day automobile race here this afternoon. Cooper was driving a Junior Eight.

Tommy Milton, in a Duesenberg, was a close second.

Leon Duray bumped into a fence on the 27th lap, but was not hurt. His right front wheel was jammed but this was quickly repaired and he went back into the grind.

A crowd estimated at 50,000 jammed the huge pine bowl structure.

Bob McDonough crashed into a fence on the 74th lap and his Miller Special turned over and was smashed. McDonough was not badly hurt.

Tommy Milton took the lead at the 150 mile mark when Cooper was forced to the pit for a tire change.

Harry Hartz in a Miller Special went into second place.

Peter De Paola, in a Duesenberg, was forced out of the running with a broken rod.

PROTEST AGAINST DEVOTIONAL SERVICES IN HIGH SCHOOL

Mason City, Ia., Nov. 11.—(UP)—Protesting against the local high school's system of devotional services, consisting of Bible reading and short talks by ministers, five Lutheran pastors of this city have carried their objections to the school board. Their petition, before the board today, contends that these services are in violation of the Federal constitution.

THIN CHARGES AGAINST PURDY

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 11.—(UP)—With nothing apparently against Everett Purdy, star Beloit backfield man, but that he played professional baseball. Coach Tommy Mills and the athletic board have decided to stand pat. It was announced today Purdy will be in the game Saturday against Lawrence at Appleton.

Charges of professionalism are said to have been filed against Purdy by Lawrence college, but up to today Beloit authorities had heard nothing official on a protest.

It is pointed out that rules of the Midwest league do not prohibit the playing of professional baseball by students in the various Midwest league schools and no provision is made regulating the participation in outside athletics by a student before he enters a Midwest school.

WINDS OF CHANCE

Never since their earliest associations had Tom Linton and Jerry Quirk found themselves in such absolute accord, in such complete harmony of understanding, as during the days that immediately followed their reconciliation. Each man undertook to outdo the other in politeness; each man forced himself to be considerate, and strove at whatever expense to himself to lighten the other's burdens; all of their relations were characterized by an elaborate, an almost mid-Victorian courtesy. A friendly rivalry in self-sacrifice existed between them; they quarreled good-naturedly over the dish-washing, that disgusting rite which tries the patience of every grown man; when there was word to be cut they battled with each other for the ax.

But there is a limit to politeness; unfading sunshine grows tedious, and so does a monotonous exercise of magnanimity.

While it had been an easy matter to cut their rowboat in two, the process of splicing it together again had required patience and ingenuity, and it had resulted in delay. By the time they arrived at Miles Canon, therefore, the season was far advanced and both men, without knowing it, were in a condition of mind to welcome any sort of a squall that would serve to freshen the unbearably stagnant atmosphere of amiability in which they were slowly suffocating.

Here for the first time the results of their quarrel arose to embarrass them; they could find no pilot who would risk his life in a craft so badly put together as theirs. After repeated discouragements the partners took counsel with each other; reluctantly they agreed that they were up against it.

"Seems like I've about ruined us," Mr. Quirk acknowledged, ruefully.

"You? Why, Jerry, it is my fault we cut the old ship in two," Mr. Linton declared.

The former speaker remonstrated, gently.

"Now, Tom, it's just like you to take the blame, but it is my doings; I instigated that fratricidal strife."

Sweetly but firmly Linton differed with his partner. "It ain't often that you're wrong, Jerry, old boy—it ain't more than once or twice in a lifetime—but you're wrong now. I'm the guilty wretch and I'd ought to hang for it. My rotten temper."

"Pshaw! You got one of the nicest dispositions I ever seen in a man. You're sweeter 'n a persimmon. I pecked at you till your core was exposed. I'm a thorn in the flesh, Tom, and folks wouldn't criticize you none for doin' away with me."

"You're 'way off. I climbed you with my spurs—"

"Now, Tom!" Sadly Mr. Quirk wagged his gray head. "I don't often argue with anybody, especially with you, but the damnable idea of dividin' our spoils originated in my evil mind and I'm goin' to pay the penalty. I'll ride this white-pine outlaw through by myself. You ear him down till I get both feet in the stirrups, then turn him a-loose; I'll finish settin' up and I won't pull leather."

"How you talk! Boats ain't like horses; it'll take a good oarsman to navigate these rapids—"

"Well?" Quirk looked up quickly. "I'm a good oarsman." There was a momentary pause. "Ain't I?"

Mr. Linton hastily remedied his slip of the tongue. "You're a bear!" he asserted, with feeling. "I don't know as I ever saw a better boatman than you, for your weight and experience, but—there's a few things about boats that you never had the chance to pick up, you being sort of a cactus and alkali sailor. For instance, when you want a boat to go 'gee' you have to pull on the 'off' oar. It's plumb opposite to the way you steer a horse."

"Sure! Didn't I figger that out for the both of us? We 'most had a runaway till I doped it out."

Now this was a plain perversion of fact, for it was Tom who had made the discovery. Mr. Linton was about to state the matter when he reflected that doubtless Jerry's intentions were honest and that his failing memory was to blame for the misstatement. It was annoying to be robbed of the credit for an important discovery, of course, but Tom swallowed his resentment.

"The point is this," he said, with a resumption of geniality. "You'd get all wet in them rapids, Jerry, and—you know what that means. I'd rather take a chance on drownin' myself than to nurse you through another bad cold."

It was a perfectly sincere speech—an indirect expression of deep concern that reflected no little credit upon the speaker's generosity. Tom was exasperated, therefore, when Jerry, by some characteristic process of crooked reasoning, managed to misinterpret it. Plaintively the latter said:

"I s'pose I am a handicap to you, Tom. You're mighty consid'rate of my feelin', not to throw it up to me any oftener than you do."

"I don't throw it up to you none, I never did. No, Jerry, I'll row the boat. You go overland and keep your feet dry."

"A lot of good that would do," Mr. Quirk spoke morosely. "I'd starve to death walkin' around if you lost the grub."

This struck Tom Linton as a very narrow, a very selfish way of looking at the matter. He had taken no such view of Jerry's offer; he had thought less about the grub than about his partner's safety. It was an inconsiderate and unfeeling remark. After a moment he said:

"You know I don't throw things up to you, Jerry. I ain't that kind." Mr. Quirk stirred uneasily. "You didn't mean to say that, did you?"

What Jerry would have answered is uncertain, for his attention at the moment was attracted by a stranger who strode down the bank and now accosted him and his partner jointly.

"Bon jour, m'sieurs!" said the newcomer, "I'm lookin' for buy some lemon. You got some, no?"

Mr. Quirk spoke irritably. "Sure, we've got a few, but they ain't for sale."

Tom Mix Latest Is One Of Best

"The Everlasting Whisper," which is now showing at the Lyceum theatre with Tom Mix as the star, is a picture with all the expected Mix thrills, plus a romantic story of an unusual sort. It is an adaptation of Jackson Gregory's novel and retains all the beautiful atmosphere of the book. To this it adds the action expected of the noted William Fox western star.

Great Beauty Shown in "Cytherea" Cuba, the tropical gem of the Atlantic and famed for its marvelously beautiful vistas and exotic atmosphere, is the setting for much of the story of "Cytherea," Goddess of Love, a First National picture which is showing at the Lyceum theatre on Thursday and Friday.

There it was that Joseph Hergeheimer, a leader in American literature, wrote the story which created a profound sensation when it was published.

Harold Lloyd Confused by Boob Football Play

The best test of a man's ability as an actor is to have him play something he really is not.

That's what Harold Lloyd does in portraying the college boob in his newest comedy feature, "The Freshman," which comes to the New Park theatre Friday for three days. In the football sequence, which has an important bearing on the story, Lloyd is made to appear to know nothing about the technique of the gridiron, when, as a matter of fact, he knows the game well. During the last football season Lloyd was a frequent attendant of Pacific Coast games.

FRANTIC WAVE OF SELLING

New York, Nov. 11.—(UP)—The stock market, which closed yesterday in a frantic wave of selling with prices crumbling, became convalescent at the opening today and in the early dealings there were few traces of the heavy selling that prompted yesterday's drastic reaction.

Lack of the flood of selling orders anticipated from speculators all over the country was regarded as encouraging and many of the higher priced stocks opened with gains.

Improvement was general throughout the first hour, although an air of nervousness hung over Wall street.

Steady buying movements absorbed left over sale orders and railroad stocks which were little hit by yesterday's drop.

Irregularity developed in the early afternoon with some stocks losing their morning gains and others advancing.

Sentiment in brokers' offices was that the market might be three or four days in adjusting itself.

PRICES RECOVER EQUILIBRIUM New York, Nov. 11.—Prices recovered their equilibrium today with amazing rapidity. Although the main body of stock was under severe pressure at the previous close with transactions the largest in history, the general list started the day almost entirely free from urgent selling and the rally which began in the early dealings was well sustained throughout the session.

Call money continued available at a reasonable charge easing off to 4 1/2 per cent after renewing at 4 3/4 per cent. This situation relieved the apprehension prevailing regarding the possibility of an increase in the local bank rate at tomorrow's meeting and the speculative community found itself wondering what the demoralization had all been about.

The restoration of confidence caused the recovery to gradually gain momentum, particularly in the motor shares and other issues, which had carried the burden of the selling. The market closed higher.

NORTHWEST BASKING IN INDIAN SUMMER

TEMPERATURES ROSE TO 52 DEGREES IN ST. PAUL YESTERDAY

St. Paul, Nov. 11.—(UP)—The northwest is basking today in the warm sun of a belated Indian summer. Temperatures rose as high as 52 yesterday. Early today the thermometer registered almost 30 in the Twin Cities with clear skies giving prospect of moderation.

"Chew Well to See Well"

Chew well if you would see well, urges Sir Arthur Keith, a great British anatomist. Decreased exercise of the jaws, and not eye strain, is causing short sight, he claims. Diminished use of the jaws in masticating the soft foods of modern diet, he asserts, is changing the shape of the face, lengthening the eye sockets, thus elongating the eyeballs and weakening vision.—Popular Science Monthly.

Gems

Gems, such as topazes, aquamarines and amethysts are still popular in this country, according to reports from the gem-cutting center, Idar-Oberstein, Germany, but there has been a decided falling off in interest here in synthetic stones of low quality.

FOR RENT—CALL 74

Was a "Bear Cat"

"My wife was never an angel, but after five years of liver and stomach trouble she became a 'bear cat.' No doctor or medicine helped her and we thought there was no help for her. Our grocer told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which had helped him for some trouble, so I brought home a bottle, but she promptly threw it out. I got it back and after a week coaxed her into taking it. She is now enjoying the best of health and disposition." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—Advt.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Pierre, S. D.—Proposal men to county conventions were elected here yesterday, officially starting the year long state campaign. James G. MacFarland, Watertown, at the same time, was declared a candidate for Senator Norbeck's toga.

Whimsical Whistler

"Many things Whistler did," Sir Edmund Gosse told Walter Tittle, the portraitist, "he did for effect only, laughing in his sleeve if he succeeded in hoodwinking his auditors. One day in his studio he languidly approached his easel, drew a single line on a canvas, with a movement of exquisite grace, put down the brush, and said: 'That is enough work for one day.'"—Boston Transcript.

CHAPTER XV. (Continued)

Never since their earliest associations had Tom Linton and Jerry Quirk found themselves in such absolute accord, in such complete harmony of understanding, as during the days that immediately followed their reconciliation. Each man undertook to outdo the other in politeness; each man forced himself to be considerate, and strove at whatever expense to himself to lighten the other's burdens; all of their relations were characterized by an elaborate, an almost mid-Victorian courtesy. A friendly rivalry in self-sacrifice existed between them; they quarreled good-naturedly over the dish-washing, that disgusting rite which tries the patience of every grown man; when there was word to be cut they battled with each other for the ax.

But there is a limit to politeness; unfeeling sunshine grows tedious, and so does a monotonous exercise of magnanimity.

While it had been an easy matter to cut their rowboat in two, the process of splicing it together again had required patience and ingenuity, and it had resulted in delay. By the time they arrived at Miles Canon, therefore, the season was far advanced and both men, without knowing it, were in a condition of mind to welcome any sort of a squall that would serve to freshen the unbearably stagnant atmosphere of amiability in which they were slowly suffocating.

Here for the first time the results of their quarrel arose to embarrass them; they could find no pilot who would risk his life in a craft so badly put together as theirs. After repeated discouragements the partners took counsel with each other; reluctantly they agreed that they were up against it.

"Seems like I've about ruined us," Mr. Quirk acknowledged, ruefully.

"You? Why, Jerry, it is my fault we cut the old ship in two," Mr. Linton declared.

The former speaker remonstrated, gently. "Now, Tom, it's just like you to take the blame, but it was my doings; I instigated that fratricidal strife."

Sweetly but firmly Linton differed with his partner. "It ain't often that you're wrong, Jerry, old boy—it ain't more than once or twice in a lifetime—but you're wrong now. I'm the guilty wretch and I'd ought to hang for it. My rotten temper—"

"Pshaw! You got one of the nicest dispositions I ever see—in a man. You're sweeter 'n a persimmon. I pecked at you till your core was exposed. I'm a thorn in the flesh, Tom, and folks wouldn't criticize you none for doin' away with me."

"You're 'way off. I climbed you with my spurs—"

"Now, Tom!" Sadly Mr. Quirk wagged his gray head. "I don't often argue with anybody, especially with you, but the damnable idea of dividin' our spoils originated in my evil mind and I'm goin' to pay the penalty. I'll ride this white-pine outlaw through by myself. You ear him down till I get both feet in the stirrups, then turn him a-loose; I'll finish settin' up and I won't pull leather."

"How you talk! Boats ain't like horses; it'll take a good oarsman to navigate these rapids—"

"Well?" Quirk looked up quickly. "I'm a good oarsman." There was a momentary pause. "Ain't I?"

Mr. Linton hastily remedied his slip of the tongue. "You're a bear!" he asserted, with feeling. "I don't know as I ever saw a better boatman than you, for your weight and experience, but—there's a few things about boats that you never had the chance to pick up, you being sort of a cactus and alkali sailor. For instance, when you want a boat to go 'gee' you have to pull on the 'off' oar. It's plumb opposite to the way you steer a horse."

"Sure! Didn't I figger that out for the both of us? We 'most had a runaway till I doped it out."

Now this was a plain perversion of fact, for it was Tom who had made the discovery. Mr. Linton was about to state the matter when he reflected that doubtless Jerry's intentions were honest and that his failing memory was to blame for the misstatement. It was annoying to be robbed of the credit for an important discovery, of course, but Tom swallowed his resentment.

"The point is this," he said, with a resumption of geniality. "You'd get all wet in them rapids, Jerry, and—you know what that means. I'd rather take a chance on drownin' myself than to nurse you through another bad cold."

It was a perfectly sincere speech—an indirect expression of deep concern that reflected no little credit upon the speaker's generosity. Tom was exasperated, therefore, when Jerry, by some characteristic process of crooked reasoning, managed to misinterpret it. Plaintively the latter said:

"I s'pose I am a handicap to you, Tom. You're mighty consid'rate of my feelin's, not to throw it up to me any oftener than you do."

"I don't throw it up to you none. I never did. No, Jerry, I'll row the boat. You go overland and keep your feet dry."

"A lot of good that would do," Mr. Quirk spoke morosely. "I'd starve to death walkin' around if you lost the grub."

This struck Tom Linton as a very narrow, a very selfish way of looking at the matter. He had taken no such view of Jerry's offer; he had thought less about the grub than about his partner's safety. It was an inconsiderate and unfeeling remark. After a moment he said:

"You know I don't throw things up to you, Jerry. I ain't that kind."

Mr. Quirk stirred uneasily. "You didn't mean to say that, did you?"

What Jerry would have answered is uncertain, for his attention at the moment was attracted by a stranger who strode down the bank and now accosted him and his partner jointly.

"Bon jour, m'sieurs!" said the newcomer. "I'm lookin' for buy some lemon. You got some, no?"

Mr. Quirk spoke irritably. "Sure. We've got a few, but they ain't for sale."

AMUSEMENTS

Tom Mix Latest Is One Of Best

"The Everlasting Whisper," which is now showing at the Lyceum theatre with Tom Mix as the star, is a picture with all the expected Mix thrills, plus a romantic story of an unusual sort. It is an adaptation of Jackson Gregory's novel and retains all the beautiful atmosphere of the book. To this it adds the action expected of the noted William Fox western star.

Great Beauty Shown in "Cytherea." Cuba, the tropical gem of the Atlantic and famed for its marvelous beautiful vistas and exotic atmosphere, is the setting for much of the story of "Cytherea," Goddess of Love, a First National picture which is showing at the Lyceum theatre on Thursday and Friday.

There it was that Joseph Hergeheimer, a leader in American literature, wrote the story which created a profound sensation when it was published.

Harold Lloyd Confused by Boob Football Play

The best test of a man's ability as an actor is to have him play something he really is not.

That's what Harold Lloyd does in portraying the college boob in his newest comedy feature, "The Freshman," which comes to the New Park theatre Friday for three days. In the football sequence, which has an important bearing on the story, Lloyd is made to appear to know nothing about the technique of the gridiron, when, as a matter of fact, he knows the game well. During the last football season Lloyd was a frequent attendant of Pacific Coast games.

FRANTIC WAVE OF SELLING

New York, Nov. 11.—(UP)—The stock market, which closed yesterday in a frantic wave of selling with prices crumbling, became convalescent at the opening today and in the early dealings there were few traces of the heavy selling that prompted yesterday's drastic reaction.

Lack of the flood of selling orders anticipated from speculators all over the country was regarded as encouraging and many of the higher priced stocks opened with gains.

Improvement was general throughout the first hour, although an air of nervousness hung over Wall Street.

Steady buying movements absorbed left over sale orders and railroad stocks which were little hit by yesterday's drop.

Irregularity developed in the early afternoon with some stocks losing their morning gains and others advancing.

Sentiment in brokers' offices was that the market might be three or four days in adjusting itself.

PRICES RECOVER EQUILIBRIUM

New York, Nov. 11.—Prices recovered their equilibrium today with amazing rapidity. Although the main body of stock was under severe pressure at the previous close with transactions the largest in history, the general list started the day almost entirely free from urgent selling and the rally which began in the early dealings was well sustained throughout the session.

Call money continued available at a reasonable charge easing off to 4 1/2 per cent after renewing at 4 3/4 per cent. This situation relieved the apprehension prevailing regarding the possibility of an increase in the local bank rate at tomorrow's meeting and the speculative community found itself wondering what the demoralization had all been about.

The restoration of confidence caused the recovery to gradually gain momentum, particularly in the motor shares and other issues, which had carried the burden of the selling.

The market closed higher.

NORTHWEST BASKING IN INDIAN SUMMER

TEMPERATURES ROSE TO 52 DEGREES IN ST. PAUL YESTERDAY

St. Paul, Nov. 11.—(UP)—The northwest is basking today in the warm sun of a belated Indian summer. Temperatures rose as high as 52 yesterday. Early today the thermometer registered almost 30 in the Twin Cities with clear skies giving prospect of moderation.

"Chew Well to See Well"

Chew well if you would see well, urges Sir Arthur Keith, a great British anatomist. Decreased exercise of the jaws, and not eye strain, is causing short sight, he claims. Diminished use of the jaws in masticating the soft foods of modern diet, he asserts, is changing the shape of the face, lengthening the eye sockets, thus elongating the eyeballs and weakening vision.—Popular Science Monthly.

Gems

Gems, such as topazes, aquamarines and amethysts are still popular in this country, according to reports from the gem-cutting center, Idar-Oberstein, Germany, but there has been a decided falling off in interest here in synthetic stones of low quality.

Was a "Bear Cat"

"My wife was never an angel, but after five years of liver and stomach trouble she became a 'bear cat.' No doctor or medicine helped her and we thought there was no help for her. Our grocer told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which had helped him for same trouble, so I brought home a bottle, but she promptly threw it out. I got it back and after a week coaxed her into taking it. She is now enjoying the best of health and disposition." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—Advt.

Lift Off—No Pain!

Doesn't hurt one bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers.

Your druggist sells a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calluses, without soreness or irritation.

Pierre, S. D.—Proposal men to county conventions were elected here yesterday, officially starting the year long state campaign. James G. MacFarland, Watertown, at the same time, was declared a candidate for Senator Norbeck's toga.

Whimsical Whistler
"Many things Whistler did," Sir Edmund Gosse told Walter Tittle, the portraitist, "he did for effect only, laughing in his sleeve if he succeeded in hoodwinking his auditors. One day in his studio he languidly approached his easel, drew a single line on a canvas, with a movement of exquisite grace, put down the brush, and said: 'That is enough work for one day.'"—Boston Transcript.
